Our aim is to help you understand why your pet is exhibiting a certain behaviour and to address the problem using humane and scientifically proven treatment methods.

There is always a 'reason' for behaviour even if it is not necessarily obvious to us or appears maladaptive for the animal.

Therefore, the best treatment for unwanted behaviour requires working out the 'reason' and the underlying emotion involved; by working on these we can ultimately affect how an animal responds in a given situation.

How an animal behaves is influenced by its genetics, early life experiences and current living environment. These components interact in a way that is unique to that particular animal. Because of this complexity, understanding the cause of a problem can require some 'detective work' which this questionnaire helps as a starting place.

To assist us with this we require that you complete and return this questionnaire at least ONE week prior to your consultation.

We also ask that you send, or get your regular veterinarian to directly send, a copy of your pets' medical history. Ideally this will include a recent (within 3 months) physical examination and blood/urine test results.

If blood/urinalysis results are not available prior to the consultation and medications are prescribed, we may advise you to perform these tests which can be done at our clinic or your regular vet.

Please answer as comprehensively as possible. Completing this questionnaire should ideally involve all of the pets' caregivers (interestingly we often see that family members can have a very different perception of what is happening!).

If you have any questions regarding the questionnaire please do not hesitate to contact us either by email or phone.

We look forward to working with you.
